Subject: Foraging for Wild Edible Mushrooms in Haliburton!

To whom it concerns @ Haliburton area lake associations:

Hi neighbours! Reaching out to see if members of your lake association would be interested in learning about the many delicious wild edible mushrooms that grow right here in the forests of Haliburton County!

We're absolutely spoiled with forest delicacies here in Ontario, but most people know very little about how to safely and confidently harvest wild edible mushrooms... let me teach you and your members!

I give a popular mushroom foraging workshop right here on my 60 acre property in Haliburton County twice weekly which I'd like to invite your members to attend. Alternatively, if enough of your members are interested we can organise a date and I'd be happy to come right out to your lake and teach the workshop there!

Here's a link with lots more info:

Please feel free to forward this link to your members, or contact my partners at Yours Outdoors to organise a workshop at your lake! (Barrie Martin: barrie@yoursoutdoors.ca)

Hope to see you out in the bush classroom soon!

Steve
